

ATG Danmon Key Personnel

Clive Northen – Chief Operating Officer

Clive is an experienced senior manager with operational and commercial experience gained within the broadcast industry. He has many years' experience of daily exposure to all areas of the business, never far removed from the company's sales and operational needs with clear focus on achieving set financial targets. An excellent communicator and a strong team player leading by example.

Clive commenced his broadcast industry career in 1994 with Worldwide Television News at its headquarters in the Interchange Building, Camden. He was appointed Bureaux Equipment Manager when WTN was acquired by the Associated Press.

In 2003 he joined Charter Broadcast as Client Manager to develop its rental and flyaway- system activity, progressing to Presteigne as Operations Manager where he was involved in coordinating the company's relocation to Gatwick.

He joined ATG Broadcast following five years with Gearhouse Broadcast, latterly as General Manager.

Clive has an ideal combination of commercial and operational experience which strengthens ATG Broadcast's capabilities at a time of expanding opportunities in the systems installation and equipment distribution areas.
