

ATG Danmon Key Personnel

Jonathan Hughes – Head of Systems Integration

Jonathan is a very experienced and highly technical Systems Engineer having been educated in media through the UK higher education system.

His career in Broadcasting began at Sony Broadcast then moved on to MTV, Music Television in London where his Engineering work in this highly operational area evolved to become Facilities Engineering Supervisor. MTV is a busy and fast changing environment and Jonathan has become operationally and technically familiar with a very wide variety of equipment and technologies.

In 2008 Jonathan moved from MTV to GearHouse where he worked with their systems department as a Proposals Engineer on many live production systems such as outside broadcast vehicles for Premier League Football and studio systems in and around the UK.

